COLUMBIA, KENTUCKY, WEDNESDAY, MAY 7, 1919.

NUMBER 28

Death of a Former Citizens.

A message received here last Friday afternoon, from Bradfordsville, announced the death of Mr. Henry C. Walker which occurred at his home, in that place, at 10 a. m., same day. The message was to his sisters, Mrs. Emily Burton and Mrs. Mary Caldwell.

The deceased was born and reared near Gradyville, this county, and in that community he lived until about twenty years ago. He first removed to Alabama where he lived two years then removing to Kentucky, locating at Bradfordsville where he resided until his death.

He was seventy-five years old and was a true Kentucky gentleman, one who made friends and held them.

His death brought sorrow to many homes in Adair county. He was on the decline for about a year. He was a member of the Methodist Church and was a Master Mason.

The sympathy of this town is extended to the wife, son and daughter, and the three sisters of this county, the two mentioned above, and Mrs. S. E. Allen, who lives out of town.

The funeral was Sunday and the following Adair county persons attended:

Mrs. Mary Caldwell, Mrs. Lizzie Grissom, Mrs. Allen Walker, Mrs. Count Sturts, Mrs. Nannie Flowers, Miss Eva Walker, Mrs. Annie L. Walker, and Messrs. Geo. Kemp, James Hunter, Count Stults, Polk Dohoney, John Dohoney, Tom Dohoney, Herbert Dohoney, Kinnauld Rowe, John Flowers, Ernest Flowers, Will Flowers, W. M. Wilmore and Chas. Sandusky. W. H. Sandusky.

40 Mules 40 at Auction, Saturday, May 17.

I will sell for the high dollar without reserve or limit in Burkesville, Kentucky, 40 head of mules 40. These mules are coming two year old 14 to 15 hands. The majority of this bunch are mares and most of them are well mated. The good heavy boned thick kind. I will offer these mules at your mercy, and they will doubtless sell at a price that will make your investment both pleasant and profitable. Here is an opportunity for you to buy mules at your own price. I furnish the mules, you make the price. Every mule must have a new home. I will also offer a few pair of good work mules. This is a better lot than I sold at my first sale. My guarantee goes with every mule sold. Sale begins at 10 o'clock a. m.

Auctioneer, Judge G. T. Herriford, S. M. Burdette, Columbia, Ky.

Mother's Day.

Mother's Day will be observed at Presbyterian church next Sunday. Sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be administered at 11 o'clock services. Every member expected and every body invited.

B. T. Watson, Pastor.

The Employment Bureau is ready to lend its service to any and all returning soldiers who may desire to get in touch with "jobs that are waiting." If you will give your name to Rev. B. T. Watson he will take pleasure in forwarding same with some idea of kind of work desired, to Employment Headquarters for this State at Louisville.

Later information in regard to the condition of Mrs. Annie Downtain is, that she only received a slight stroke, did not lose an eye and that her face is only slightly drawn, and that her affliction is likely to come around all right.

Mr. T. O. Patteson, who is in the service at Newport News, Va., who recently got an arm broken, had to have the limb reset, but at this time a relative writes that he is doing fine.

Monday was county court and a fairly good crowd was in town. Some stock changed hands.

Tells an Interesting Story.

Mr. Sam Duvall, who received his education at the Lindsey-Wilson, and also taught in the institution a year, returned from overseas last week, having spent eleven months in France. He was in fifteen battles, went over the top, and escaped without being wounded. At one time he escaped getting hurt, a heavy pair of gloves and his woolen cap protected him. In entering a battle he removed his gloves and cap, putting them in a pocket at his side. He had not been fighting long before a piece of shell struck the pocket, went through his cap and gloves and his clothing, stopping when it reached his body. He is satisfied that the gloves and cap saved him from being either killed or wounded. The army was so busy fighting, he says, he often went a day and night without eating, and when he did eat, it had to be done hurriedly while the fighting proceeded. He says the day they broke the Hindenburg line, the fight commenced early in the morning, the sky being clear and bright, but in a few hours perfect darkness reigned, the smoke from the big guns and smaller arms creating it, and they fought without seeing until the line was broken.

He was also in Belgium and he says the horrible stories told of how Germans treated women and children was not overdrawn; that he saw a number of little boys without hands and feet, they having been chopped off by the cruel Huns.

He stated that quite a number of little Belgium boys were brought across by American soldiers who would adopt them.

Mr. Duvall is now with his wife at Glenville, this county.

A "Special's Special."

"Mickey," is a happy picture at a happy time. She's A Dare Divine Mack Sennett's Great Special $500,000 Photo Play, "Mickey" featuring Mabel Normand with an all star selected cast, don't miss this Great Comedy Friday and Saturday of this week afternoon and night both days at Paramount Theater.

Miss Edna Chewing, granddaughter of Mr. B. F. Chewing, who became a teacher after she graduated at the Lindsey-Wilson and also at Bowling Green, has been very successful in her work. She has been teaching in the Atlanta, Ga., Business College for two years, and was recently elected principal of the girls department. She is a young lady of strong character, and her success is appreciated by her many Columbia and Adair county friends.

Lydus, the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Pickett, met with a painful accident last Wednesday morning. She was playing with other children in the back yard of the home, and stepped, with her left foot, on a piece of glass, cutting a severe gash which bled profusely. Dr. Russell dressed the wound. In all probability a small artery was severed.

When the baby takes too much food the stomach turns; the result is indigestion, sourness and vomiting. Frequently the bowels are involved and there is colic pains and diarrhoea. McGEE'S BABY ELIXIR is a grand corrective remedy for the stomach and bowel disorders of babies. It is pure, wholesome and pleasant to take. Sold by Paul Drug Co. Adv

Mr. Leslie McClister has purchased Mr. E. L. Sinclair's one-half interest in the wholesale and retail store that has been doing business over the firm name of E. L. Sinclair & Co., and he is now in full charge. He will continue the business in the same building.

To Automobile Drivers.

There is an ordinance, passed by the Municipal Board of this town, regulating the speed of all machines in the corporate limits of Columbia. The law is daily being disregarded, and frequently accidents occur. Mr. J. C. Strange is now the Town Marshal of Columbia, and it is his duty to arrest all parties who violate this ordinance. So if you have been driving too fast, and do not want to pay a fine, heed the law.

Notice of Election.

By an order of the Adair Fiscal Court, entered at the April term thereof, 1919. An election will be held on Saturday, May the 31st, 1919, at the various voting precincts in Adair county, for the purpose of submitting to the Voters of said County, the question of whether a tax of 20cts, on the hundred dollars on all property subject by law to local taxation, shall be levied for a term of five years, for the improvement or construction of the public roads and bridges of the County, either or both as the Fiscal Court may direct.

Gone to Her Reward.

After a long illness Mrs. Thruse Mullinix, who was the beloved wife of Mr. E. F. Mullinix, who lives near the Fair Grounds, succumbed to the inevitable last Sunday morning, about 2 o'clock, and her spirit went to God who gave it. She was seventy years old, and had been a devoted member of the Baptist Church for many years, doing what she could for the cause of her Master.

She was a native of Tennessee, but the greater portion of her life was spent in Cumberland county, Ky. She removed with her husband and family to this county twelve or fifteen years ago.

She leaves an aged husband and six or seven sons and daughters.

May God comfort them in this hour of their greatest sorrow.

The funeral discourse was preaced by Rev. J. T. Dougherty, of Glendale, Ky., at the Baptist church Monday forenoon at 10 o'clock. Eld. Z. T. Williams offered prayer. The interment was in the city cemetery. There were many floral offerings.

Sunday-School Attendance.

W. H. Sandusky, Columbia, Ky.

Mr. Lucian Hunn, who has a smile and a glad hand for all his many friends, got home last Wednesday night. He was in France a number of months and knows the hardships experienced in the bloody war. He had good health all through it, and is in fine condition to breathe peaceful air that permeates around old Columbia.

Mr. J. N. Dean, who many years ago lived in the Gradyville country, this county, died suddenly near Harrodsburg, where he resided, two weeks ago. He was a cousin of Mrs. Mary Caldwell and Mrs. Emily Burton, this place. Before the announcement of his death Mrs. Caldwell was making preparations to visit him.

Mickey, well worth the wait, it contains Comedy, pathos, suspension in fact everything that makes a good Comedy Melodrama, see this picture Friday and Saturday of this week afternoon and night both days at Paramount Theater.

Mr. Robt. Dohoney, son of Mr. J. P. Dohoney, this place, who lives in Texas, but who was in the service, going overseas, reached Newport News last week where he expected to remain a few days, then go to Fort Worth for his discharge. He was on the firing line while in France.

Strayed from my place one-half mile from Esto, post office, one black gilt. Will weigh about 70 pounds. Smooth crop of right ear. Any information will be appreciated.

Dewitt Kimbler, Esto, Ky. 28-3t

The commencement sermon for the Lindsey-Wilson will be preached at the Methodist church next Sunday night.

New Oil Company in the Field.

The Pine Knot Oil and Gas Company is a new organization which was incorporated at Stanford some weeks ago. Mr. C. H. Vansickle, representing the company, has been in Adair county for the past two weeks, taking leases. Up to last Wednesday he had leased four thousand acres and he continues to work.

He informed The News that this company would develop this county, and that he hoped to get everything ready to commence drilling in about sixty days.

Oil men from the East, who have been here, say that the wells that have been put down in this territory were not sunk deep enough to find oil, that they believed that oil was here in paying quantities, but it would take deep wells to reach it. Evidently there is also gas in Adair, as it has been frequently struck.

FORMER JAILER GIVEN FREEDOM

Prominent Warren County Farmer Released from Troubles by Trutona.

Bowling Green, Ky., May 6.—Every body in Bowling Green and Warren County knows, likes and esteems jolly whole souled, honest Nat H. Curd, former jailer and now a prominent farmer and auctioneer. The glowing tribute he offers for Trutona is therefore expected to convince many of the perfect tonic's remarkable merits.

"I suffered from a general breakdown following an attack of the flu," Mr. Curd said. "I became cross and mean and so nervous I couldn't sleep. I thought I had lost my strength forever. My appetite was poor and I lost weight and strength.

"It was a lucky move when I decided to try Trutona, however, for I began improving in a very short time. I've gained 15 pounds in two weeks and feel better in every way than I have for years. I am a well man. I have ravenous appetite now, the constipation has been relieved. I sleep soundly at night and feel refreshed and buoyant of mornings. Trutona is the only medicine that relieved me and I think it should be in every home.

The sincere statement of Mr. Curd should appeal directly to every thinking man and woman and should convince them that Trutona is a tonic of superior merit.

Trutona, the perfect tonic, is now being introduced and explained in Columbia at Paul Drug Co. Adv.

Died Near Milltown.

Mr. Wm. Breeding, who lived on Blue Spring Branch, below Milltown, died last Thursday night. He was a farmer and was seventy-odd years old. Interment Friday afternoon.

In the whole field of medicine there is not a healing remedy that will repair damage to the flesh more quickly than BALLARD'S SNOW LINIMENT. In cuts, wounds, sprains, burns, scalds and rheumatism, its healing and penetrating power is extraordinary. Sold by Paul Drug Co. Adv

Ansel Evans, a colored boy, eighteen years old, died at Eunice a few days ago. He was a faithful work hand and will be missed by the farmers.

For Sale.

Two good Jersey cows, fresh in a few days.

Joe Barbee.

Last week it was reported that the late frost and freeze had damaged the wheat to a certain extent. Since that time we have made inquiry of a number of wheat growers and they say it is not damaged. Clover has been damaged some. The peaches, so growers say, are not all killed, and if they do not fall from the trees, there will be plenty for home consumption.

Mr. T. A. Chastain, of Greensburg, and Miss Bessie Goff, of this county, were married in the court-house, this place, Friday of week before last. They left immediately for the home of the groom.

In the sale of Liberty bonds Adair county went over the top last Friday week; but the workers sold up to last Friday, raising six thousand more than the county's quota.

NOTES ON ADAIR COUNTY.

BY JOHN AVROE STEELE.

No. 14.

THE PERMANENT SETTLEMENT OF ADAIR COUNTY.

The nearest white settlement to them, after their arrival in Adair county, except possibly here and there a straggler in the wilderness, was Carpenter's Station, in Lincoln county, about fifty miles to the eastward. To the westward, Gray's Station, which was near where the road from Columbia to Greensburg crosses the Caney Fork, in Green county, was established in 1790, but after the establishment of Casey and his company in Adair county. Leaving Lincoln county, Casey and his associates journeyed through Casey county and Adair, along Casey's Creek, which took its name from him, to where it empties into Green river at Plum Point. At this point, they crossed to the south side of Green river, and at a large fine spring upon the farm, which was formerly called the Settle's farm, but later, the James Callison farm, and now (1919) owned by Braxton Masie, they pitched their camp. This place lies alongside the road known as the Columbia and Springfield road, between Mount Pleasant church and Doke's Ford over Green river. Here, they erected two blockhouses, one upon each side of the spring, and each surrounded by a stockade. The people were divided into two groups, one of which took up its residence in each of the stockades, and Casey commanded at one, and Capt. John Butler at the other. At this time, Casey was about thirty-three years of age, while Capt. John Butler was not exceeding twenty-one years of age. During the first five years of its existence, the people, at this settlement, suffered many attacks from the Indians, and five were slain during the first year, but, under the leadership of Casey and Butler, they, successfully, maintained themselves and defended themselves against all the assaults. When the inmates of the station would establish homes nearby, they would very soon encounter a visit from the Indians.

Buck Lawson, who was a brother of the wife of Major Nathan Montgomery, was killed by the Indians. Stuart or Stewart, was killed at a spring near the Columbia and Springfield road, and upon the Massie farm, and not far from the "Station." About one year after the establishment of Casey's and Butler's Station, a portion of the inhabitants, who resided there, under the leadership of the Rev. John Tucker, removed about two miles away to a stockade and other defensive works, which were erected near a creek, called Slate Creek, Disappointment and Bull Run, at a point about two miles from where it empties into the Russell, and near the present site of the residence of Samuel B. Conover. It was called Tucker's Station. Very soon after the occupation of Tucker's Station, it suffered an attack from the Indians, and the inmates, finding that they could not successfully defend themselves, undertook to escape to Casey's and Butler's Station. In this attempt, they maintained a running fight with the Indians, until near Casey's and Butler's Station, when a part of the Indians succeeded in getting between them and the latter place, when Tucker and his wife and several others were slain and scalped by the Indians, but the others were saved by a successful sortie, which was made for their relief from the station. The Indians carried away everything, which was movable, from Tucker's Station, including several horses. The Indians fled, as was their custom, after a successful foray, toward the Cumberland river. Under the leadership of Casey, a company of men overtook them at the Cumberland river, either at the point where Salem church now stands, at the mouth of Big Renick (or Renox) Creek, in Cumberland county, or at the mouth of Indian Creek, in Russell county. The Indians were undertaking to cross the river upon a raft, and Casey and his men made an instant attack upon them. In the battle, which ensued, several Indians were killed and the others dispersed. The horses and other articles were recovered and returned.

The year after the establishment of Casey's and Butler's Station, Isaac Farris, Champness Farris and Isham Tally and some others undertook to establish themselves near the Green river, opposite the mouth of Casey's Creek. They commenced the erection of a dwelling house, but before its completion, the Indians attacked them, at night. Isaac Farris was killed by the first shot and Champness Farris was mortally wounded. Isham Tally and a negro girl were, also, each badly wounded. The others escaped in the darkness and one of them arrived at Casey's and Butler's Station with the news of the tragedy, just at the breaking of day. Capt. John Butler and Col. William Casey, with a dozen men, at once, set out for the scene of the attack. They found Tally so seriously wounded, that they were compelled to convey him to the station upon a sheet borne by four men. He, however, finally recovered from his wounds. Champness Farris was not dead when the rescuers arrived, but expired in a few moments afterward. Between Capt. Butler and Champness Farris, there existed a very strong degree of friendship, which had been formed and cemented by the undergoing of many perils together, and when Butler saw Farris in his dying condition, he took him in his arms and so held him until he expired, amid the tears of not only of Butler, but of all the rugged men, who stood silently by. Butler named a son, Champness, in memory of his unfortunate friend. It was either Isaac or Champness Farris who was the grandfather of the noted Shelton Farris and his brother, William Farris, of Barren county. Shelton Farris was, at one time, the sheriff of Barren county. Bert Garmon, lately, the sheriff of Cumberland county, is a grandson of William Farris.

Between the year 1790 and 1793, the exact date is not now known, while hunting near where the town of Columbia is now situated, on the south side of the Russell, Casey and others wounded a buffalo, which fled and was pursued by them for about four miles and killed, by them, near the road from Columbia to Burkesville, near the site of the present residence of W. T. Dohoney. Casey was greatly pleased with the appearance of the country and the fertility of the soil in that vicinity, and made up his mind to acquire it for himself. It is within the limestone belt of land, which in that vicinity, extends across the county, in an irregular course from the north to the south. Very soon thereafter, returning to the vicinity with the purpose of taking measures to possess himself of it, he found the fresh marks of a tomahawk upon the trees, showing, that it had, very lately, been entered and surveyed by some one for a patent. He, shortly thereafter, ascertained that the survey had been made for two gentlemen named Banks and Roberts, respectively, and that they had carried their entry and survey into a grant. Securing the services of Martin Hardin as his agent, he purchased the tract of land from the patentees, through Hardin, at the price of twenty-five cents per acre. The tract contained 1,520 acres, and extended from near Pettit's Fork of Russell to Bliss. Taking with him a part of the people who were residing at Casey's and Butler's Station, Casey removed to the lands, which had been purchased by him. Here a blockhouse and a stockade were erected as a protection from the Indians. This place was thereafter called Casey's Station. It was situated upon the farm now (1919) owned and occupied by Rufus G. Price and near the site of his dwelling. This farm lies upon the southeast side of the present highway from Columbia to Edmonton, and about four and one-half miles from the former place. The small rivulet, which trickles across the road at the foot of the first hill, and just before the road turns due west to lead down to Bliss, as you travel from Columbia, has its source in the spring, which furnished water for the inhabitants of the station. It is yet known in the neighborhood, as the Casey Spring. At the time of his death in 1816, Casey was residing upon these lands. A portion of the tract became afterwards the property of Thomas B. Johnston, and later of James L. Johnston.

Dear brother:—

It is with the greatest pleasure that I seat myself to answer your letter just at hand, and was glad to hear you were all O. K., and having a fine time and truly hope this will find you the same. This is a very nice place and there are lots of pretty girls in Germany and France, but I wouldn't have one of them and you had just as well listen to a bunch of ducks though I am learning to talk to them very well. Now Easter is near at hand. I want you to eat enough for me. Eggs are 12½ cents apiece over here, and chickens about $3.00 each. So you know I am not eating very many.

Well, I have been with the 32nd Division since September, and I am proud to say that I am in the 32nd for they have broken all German lines that they ever attacked and held all possessions that they gained, and regained ground that others had lost the first time I went over the top was to regain what the 91st Division had lost and we sure put up some hard fighting through the Argonne and on the Meuse. I will now tell you something about the beautiful Rhine river, as I just returned last night from a pleasure trip on the Rhine. This is the greatest scenery in the world. The Rhine is 1,183 kilometers long (about 600 miles) and from 1,831,000 to 1,908,261 marks were expended in improving the channel. There are at present 11,000 boats on the river; 1,200 steamboats. Cologne of 600,000 inhabitants is the most important city of the Rhine province, and is also famed for its most beautiful churches. The city is now occupied by the British army of occupation. Bonn is another nice University town of 80,000 inhabitants and about 4,000 students. The seven mountains (known by this name from the eleventh century) are also seen from Bonn, as seven distinct peaks. Here the river flows by an isolated miniature mountain range that can be traversed on boat in a single day. Many paths lead over the hills, commanding varied views over the Rhine. The highest peak is 461 meters high from Andernock to Rolandseck. The stream flows over pact rocks and stately cliffs. The view from the boat toward the north is very charming. The mountains with their almost perpendicular sides, giving the appearance of the wings of a stage. On the highest and steepest point we see the ruins of Hammersteins Castle which we were told was first in literature 1002. We now reach Neuwied, a very beautiful little town of 18,000 inhabitants where the river flows through the large Neuwied Basin. This is in prehistoric times formed on inland lake in the course of centuries the Rhine cut its way through the Schiefer Slate mountains near Bingen and the waters spread out over the wide valleys. We pass the most luxurious islands; Niederwerth and Graswerth, and the towns Bendorf and Engers. We now reach Coblenz, one of the most beautiful little towns on the Rhine of 55,000 inhabitants. One of the largest equestrian statues in the world is of Kaiser Wilhelm I, occupies the head of the point of the junction of the Rhine and Moselle river. This statue is brass mounted on a horse, stands 46 feet high. There is also a woman statue beside the horse 34th high across the Rhine facing Coblenz is Ehrenbreitsteins fortress 385 feet above the river said to be one of the greatest forts in the world. Its present massive structure dating 1816-1826 and now the Stars and Stripes bravely wave over her and just below Coblenz, Julius Caesar built a bridge in the year of 55 B. C. Up the Rhine are mountains on both sides from 300 to 700 feet high, but there are many beautiful valleys and towns on top of the mountains. We were told that the country is level and very fertile. Every mountain facing the Rhine is covered with grape vines and fruit trees. Just above Coblenz on the high cliffs are two castles, Liebenstein and Sterrenberg associated with the legend of the two "hostile brothers." From the ruins we see Marksburg and beautiful Boffard where six small valleys meet facing each other and on the opposite bank are the "Castles" Lahneck and Stalzenfels, the last named rebuilt by King Frederick Wilhelm IV, who frequently used it. The recent owner was the former Kaiser Wilhelm II, and on up river we come to Marksburg, and on top of a very high peak above the town was Mark's Castle. We were told that this Castle was built 250 years before the civilization of America. There is a mine there they claimed to have been taking silver and lead from for 2,000 years and there is another castle close, Rhine Rheinfels, the most historic castle on the Rhine. Claimed to have been built 300 years before Mark's castle. At one time 17,000 French soldiers attacked this castle but failed to take it. This was before gun powder was invented and they fought with stone, swords and bows and arrows. There is just one narrow path leads to these castles and it is impossible to get there any other way. There are many of these old Castles, have been destroyed in time except this old towers and have been rebuilt. We passed the picturesque castle, Rheinstein and a lot of rivers nestling in the valleys and pretty ancient villages. A melancholy sentimental atmosphere rests upon the landscape in striking contrast to the boats on the river. From here we see some of the finest Rhine sceneries Bocharack old Caub; the many towered Obalz, the mysterious Larelie Rock, and the rock bound valley of St. Goar is the center of the Rhine beauty. We went a short distance above here and turned round and came back to Neuwied where our trucks were waiting to take us back to our company. There was only 15 of us from Co C. The weather was not real beautiful but we could stay on the top deck if we wished to. At all times the boat traveled about 8 miles an hour up stream and 20 miles an hour down stream. We got a good view of every thing. Lots of the boys are talking of staying over here, but not me for I have seen enough of foreign country at present. This was a fine trip and full of pleasure, but the greatest pleasure trip to me will be to catch a boat sailing westward and bound for home and to see the old Statue of Liberty for which we have fought so hard to protect, then I will thank God for my safe arrival to the good old U. S. A.

So tell mother not to worry, just cheer up and smile, for I will be home soon.

With love to all, I will close.

Your sincere brother,
Pvt. D. E. Bell.

Life Was a Misery

Mrs. F. M. Jones, of Palmer, Okla., writes: "From the time I entered into womanhood . . . I looked with dread from one month to the next: I suffered with my back and bearing-down pain, until life to me was a misery. I would think I could not endure the pain any longer, and I gradually got worse. . . Nothing seemed to help me until, one day, . . . I decided to

CARDUI

The Woman's Tonic

"I took four bottles," Mrs. Jones goes on to say, "and was not only greatly relieved, but can truthfully say that I have not a pain."

"It has now been two years since I took Cardui, and I am still in good health. . . I would advise any woman or girl to use Cardui who is a sufferer from any female trouble."

If you suffer pain caused from womanly trouble, or if you feel the need of a good strengthening tonic to build up your run-down system, take the advice of Mrs. Jones. Try Cardui. It helped her. We believe it will help you.

Obituary.

At Croucus Ky., on the morning of April 16th, 1919, the death angel visited the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bermon Holt, and claimed for its victim their only child little Marie, who had suffered for several weeks of typhoid fever. Never was there a more honorable child, she was loved by everyone. She will be greatly missed at home and in school to which she was very much devoted.

Sleep on sweet one altho we hate to part with you, but we believe you are at rest in the beautiful beyond. The bereaved father and mother have the sympathy of the entire community.

May God of all grace sustain them in this sad bereavement.

MOPPING UP LOAN FAR DIFFERENT IN ALLIED COUNTRIES

WHAT IS MORE $100,000,000 COMPARED TO DEFEAT BY GERMANY?

NO TIME FOR WHINING

Suppose That Von Hindenburg Had Dictated the Peace Terms.

When the new Year's Day rolled around the United States of America had put something like $100,000,000 into war expenses. That same token the Kaiser had since ceased to rule in Berlin and his armies were streaming back to Germany.

The allies, the whole entente and associated nations, had spent about $125,000,000,000 at that time. Of course, the human imagination simply staggers when it tries to "take in" just what such an amount of money means.

But the winning was worth the price. Suppose that we do a little supposing to make that clear? Suppose that instead of General Foch dictating the terms they had been dictated by Von Hindenburg? Suppose that instead of American, French and English troops occupying the Rhine cities, the spiked helmets were occupying London, Paris, New York and Washington in order to guarantee compliance with the German terms.

That $125,000,000,000 looks like money compared with what the German would have saddled on us in the way of indemnities, forced levies and contributions, seizures of raw materials and straight looting. The man who whines about another Liberty Loan would have had something to whine about if Hindenburg had dictated.

We don't know the meaning of humiliation and servitude in this country, but we would have learned had we not bought this victory with blood and gold. Suppose we are in debt for part of it? Suppose we do have to raise another $4,500,000,000 loan? Is both a "Victory Loan" and a "Liberty Loan" isn't it?

We have won the victory. It is up to us to clinch it. To benefit humanity to the utmost, billions more may be needed for the clean-up, for the mopping up of the waste and ruin that now covers so much of the world.

We went into this thing with the moral pledge that we would see it through, that we would stick it out. As the patriotism in the soul of America insists that it be done, that our pledge be kept. We are under as solemn an obligation to go on with the job as ever a free people assumed. According to the way we keep that obligation, will we be judged as heroes in the future.

And that means, in the last analysis, that every American must do his individual share in taking care of the Fifth Loan. After all, it is a personal matter.

ITALY'S SAVING METHODS

Installment Plan Is Adopted to Encourage War Loan Support.

The humble citizen of Italy insists upon doing his part to help his country carry her war and post-war financial burdens. There are no Thrift Stamps nor War Savings Stamps in Italy, and there are hundreds of thousands of patriotic Italians who have more than a dollar or two at one time to offer their government.

But in Italy, just as in all the other belligerent nations, a way has been provided to take advantage of the invaluable assistance which the small investor can give the nation both in war and in peace. The Italian government has arranged for a war bond through the banks in the club plan. A workman or small farmer goes to a bank and makes a small deposit and asks that a 100 lira ($20) war bond be purchased for him. He then completes the payment for his bond at the rate of 7 lira ($1.40) per month. He may secure a 500 lira bond by monthly payments of 35 lira ($7).

Though they have different methods of collecting the contributions of that large proportion of their citizens who are unable to accumulate $100 or over $20 at one time, it will be found that everyone of the belligerent nations has found it absolutely essential to make some arrangements for securing the support of the small investor.

ALLOCATION OF COUNTY CREDITS

Credits for subscriptions to the Victory Loan will be given to the banks which forwards the same to the Federal Reserve Bank of St. Louis and to the county in which the filing bank is located.

Official total subscriptions for the county will be based upon subscriptions actually filed by the banks in the county with the Federal Reserve Bank of St. Louis.

The subscriptions must be in form prescribed by the Federal Reserve Bank, and be accompanied by at least the initial payment of 10 per cent (under the government plan).

ANNOUNCEMENT.

FOR STATE SENATOR.

We are authorized to announce Mr. Jas. R. Garnett a Democratic candidate for the State Senate in the District composed of the counties of Adair, Barren and Metcalfe. His candidacy is subject to the action of the voters at the August primary.

FOR STATE SENATOR.

We are authorized to announce C. Haskell Miller, of Metcalfe county, a Democratic candidate for the State Senate, in the district made up of the counties of Adair, Barren and Metcalfe, subject to the action of the voters at the August primary.

Our prediction is that names of only two candidates for the Democratic nomination for Governor will be on the ballot at the primary.

Mr. Leslie Larimore, of Green county, a most excellent gentleman, a Republican candidate for Clerk of the Court of Appeals, was here, meeting his many friends last Friday.

Mr. C. Haskell Miller, of Metcalfe county, Democratic candidate for the State Senate, spoke at the courthouse Monday afternoon, defending his candidacy. He gave a biographical sketch of himself, spoke in high terms of his opponent, Mr. J. R. Garnett. In closing he slashed Hon. M. O. Scott unmercifully, claiming that he was an ingrate.

From an article we read in Friday's Louisville Times, it seems that Mr. Stanley has made a trade, which is, that he will allow Mr. Charles Cronan's nomination for Collector of the Fifth District, be confirmed and for his generous act the Democratic organization of Louisville is to support the candidacy of Thos.

S. Rhea for Governor. Stanley's old game is not looked upon with favor in this part of Kentucky.

THOUGHTS ON THE SENATORIAL RACE.

The Adair County Democratic Committee publishes a preamble and a bunch of resolutions in today's News, dealing with the Senatorial outlook in this the 19th district. The News knows as well as the committee, that under the implied agreement that it is Adair's time to furnish the Democratic candidate, and there was no other thought in the minds of the Democrats throughout this county. With this in mind Mr. J. R. Garnett announced his candidacy, and in a very short time thereafter Mr. C. Haskell Miller, who claims Metcalfe as his home, but in reality he spends the most of his time in Glasgow, announces for the same position. Now some party or parties about Glasgow is backing Mr. Miller, and is not looking to the interest of the Democratic party. There must be fair sailing in this District to win in the November election, and if a serious contention has arisen, and is not averted, there is not the slightest chance for the Democratic candidate, it matters not who he may be, to win at November. A fair minded man need not hesitate to come to this conclusion, Adair county has acted square with Metcalfe and Barren county, and at this time she demands justice. By the way, the Edmonston News, a Democratic paper, stated editorially, last week, that it was Adair's time. Look over the situation, and if you want to see the district represented by a Democrat, do your best to bring about a reconciliation. If the committees of the three counties meet and decide that it is not Adair's time, then Adair will have no candidate, and will support the nominee.

No use to worry about Italy. The United States has been good to her and if she refuses to sign the league document, peace will be declared any way. Suppose she does not sign, what could she do? She was an ally against Germany, and she cannot possibly expect any comfort from that country, and even if she could, Germany's hands are tied.

The text of the League of Nations has been given to the public, and it is rather a lengthy document. We have read it, but must confess that there are features that we do not fully understand. It is only those who are acquainted with international law that can take in the full gist of it. However, we take it that the distinguished gentlemen who wrote it understood their task, and we are willing to endorse their work.

Up to the present there is less interest in the gubernatorial race than we ever before knew in a contest for the great office of Governor. It is now May and if a speech has been made it has not come to our knowledge. The people over the State have not been given an opportunity to see the candidates, and some of them, the populace do not know how they look, whether old or young. They should come out and let the people get acquainted with them. There are many Democrats in Adair county who do not know today who they will support for Governor.

An Exchange says: It only requires a little reading between the lines to get the real slant on the motives actuating some of the Republican politicians who have been denouncing the League of Nations covenant; the application of a little common sense shows that their motives are partisan, and that their opposition to the League springs wholly from the fact that our President, to whom the world looks to lead it from the bloody fields of war to the shining pathway of peace as Israel of old looked to Moses to lead her from captivity, happens to be a Democrat.

Americans fought to "establish justice, insure domestic tranquility, provide for the common defense, promote the general welfare and secure the blessings of liberty to ourselves and our posterity." It is therefore unbelievable that they would allow the fruit of that victory to be spoiled to satisfy the ambition of a few selfish partisans. Because the League of Nations is the only guarantee that can be offered to make the victory over militarism lasting, the American people are making their approval of the covenant known in tones that are distinct.

Seventeen infernal machines were found in the mail, a few days ago, about to leave New York. They were directed to cabinet officers and wealthy men over the country. The discovery was made by the packages not having postage enough. The anarchists who are in the United States should be run down, and every one, it matters not the city nor the town, in which they are found, and if the proof is sufficient, should be put to death. Such action upon the part of the authorities would make this country fit for lawabiding people to live. An anarchist is a feign who cannot bear to see a man prosper unless he is given a portion of the earnings. Rid the country of them and the breed will stop.

RESOLUTIONS.

The Democratic Executive Committee of Adair County, Acts.

Whereas, the 19th Senatorial District of Kentucky was composed of the Counties of Barren, Metcalfe and Monroe prior to 1914, when the General Assembly removed Monroe from this District and placed Adair therein, and we have been informed that prior to the time this change was made an implied agreement existed among the Democrats of the District whereby the three Counties furnished candidates in rotation. Metcalfe County furnished a candidate in the person of Hon. M. O. Scott, who was elected Senator from this District at the November election, 1911, and served for the term of four years.

When Adair County came into the District in 1914, the Democrats of this County expressed their willingness to carry out the time honored custom, and although citizens of Adair County were suggested as candidates, it was conceded to be Barren's time to furnish the candidate, and the Hon. R. Ballard Trigg, of Barren County, was nominated and elected to represent this District, serving as Senator until he was called into the Military Service of his Country, when he resigned and a special election was held. It was then conceded that the Democracy of Barren County was entitled to select Maj. Trigg's successor, When Hon. Basil Richardson, a citizen and resident of Barren County, was nominated, elected and served for the remainder of the term, and

Whereas, according to what is understood to be an implied agreement and custom among the Democrats of the 19th Senatorial District, the Democracy of Adair County is entitled to furnish the candidate to be nominated in the coming primary for the term beginning Jan. 1, 1920, which right is conceded to Adair County by the only Democratic newspaper in Metcalfe County, and

Whereas, a Democrat of Adair County has announced as a candidate for the nomination and a Democratic citizen of Metcalfe County has announced his intention to become a candidate, and

Whereas, the District in the last gubernatorial election gave a majority for Hon. A. O. Stanley of only 222 votes and for Senator Trigg votes, and at the November election, 1918, the District was carried for A. O. Stanley, the Democratic Nominee for U. S. Senator by only 49 votes, and if a controversy should arise between the Democrats of the Counties composing the District as to their respective right under the time honored custom which has been adhered to for many years, it might injure the Democratic State Ticket as well as, the nominee for Senator, and in order to avoid this apparent danger the Democratic Executive Committee of Adair County, after careful consideration of the facts herein stated, adopted the following resolution:

Be it resolved by the Executive Committee of Adair County that the Democratic Executive Committees of Adair, Barren and Metcalfe Counties, should meet at Edmonston on the 17th day of May, 1919, and the convention so assembled should determine

1. Whether or not the time honored custom which has prevailed among the Democrats of the 19th Senatorial District shall be continued,

2. What County is entitled to furnish the Democrat candidate in the coming election.

When these questions have been determined the conclusion so reached shall be published and the respective candidates shall abide the result, so that the nominee can go to the people unhampered by any claim of violation of the agreement and custom which has existed in this District.

The Chairman of this Committee will furnish a copy of this Preamble and Resolution to the Chairman of the Committees of Barren and Metcalfe Counties, and will request them to join with him in calling a meeting of the respective Committees at the time stated, or at a time to be agreed upon by the Chairman of the respective Committees, if this date is not satisfactory, and to communicate with him at once whether or not they will join in said call, and in order that the Democrats may be fully advised as to the purposes of this resolution and the action taken by the Executive Committee of Adair County, the chairman of this Committee will cause a copy of these resolutions to be furnished to all papers published in the 19th Senatorial District, with the request that they publish same, and he will also mail a copy to the several members of the Committee in Barren and Metcalfe Counties.

Copy.

A PLEA FOR JUSTICE.

West Point, Miss., Apr. 25.

Editor News:—

I notice in your recent issue the announcement of C. Haskell Miller, of Metcalfe Co., as a candidate for the Democratic nomination for your district, composed of Adair, Barren and Metcalfe counties. I have no political interest in your affairs since I recently became a citizen of this State, but love for the old home and for the Democratic party and my acquaintance with conditions there prompt me to make a few suggestions which, I trust, you will publish. First, no man worked harder for the making of this district, than

I did and I did it without any political ambition. At that time Senator M. O. Scott, of Edmonston, was the representative of the District composed of Barren, Monroe and Metcalfe. To his valient service, efficient political sagacity and his sterling Democracy the district dropped Monroe with 1,000 Republican majority and took Adair with her 300, making a Democratic district by 600. Senator Scott filled his term when Barren claimed next. It was granted by Metcalfe and Adair under the agreement and policy that each county should take its term. This time it is Adair's time and according to party policy, in the district. Mr. Garnett should not have opposition outside of his county. The democrats of Adair stood loyally by this policy and I know they are true and genuine to it yet, but if they are to be made a foot ball for the heavy Democratic end of the district it seems to me that it is a little dangerous for party success. If Barren supports the Metcalfe man his nomination is assured. If Adair is defeated in such a manner is the nominee assured of election? To my mind it would be very doubtful for resentment is human. I do not know Mr. Miller. I take it that he is a worthy Democrat, but he ought to see that he is out of harmony with party policy and not only endangering his own chances of success, but the district as well. It would be gratifying to me to see some action assuring the established policy to prevail. I am not in Kentucky political scraps. I'm glad of it, but I'm still a Kentucky Democrat just the same and my leave of absence too short to loose interests especially in a district I had such a vital interest in, and beyond this I believe in a square deal or no deal at all. Can't the Democrats of Adair show the Democrats of Metcalfe and Barren that a raw deal is being handed to them? Rough riding can prevail where party power is invincible, but where it borders on equality it is, at least, dangerous. I know Mr. Garnett to be worthy of the position he seeks. He is acceptable to the Democrats of Adair and that ought to settle it as it is Adair's time.

Yours truly,
C. S. Harris.

GAS FOR LOUISVILLE

City Now In No Danger of Not Having Ample Supply of Fuel Gas

Louisville, Ky., May 5th.—The troubles anticipated by Louisville as to next winter's fuel gas are all over, and the situation which at first promised considerable litigation has been relieved.

The Pennagrade Oil and Gas Co., composed of a number of wealthy West Virginia coal operators, has closed a contract with the Louisville Gas and Electric Co. for a supply covering the next fifteen years.

The Pennagrade people have also interested a number of Kentucky men in their project, among them Geo. T. Wood, Vice President of the Bourbon Stock Yards, Louisville; Col. Robt. G. Evans, of Danville; Robt. M. Trimble, of Mt. Sterling; Rev. E. B. G. Mann, of Lexington, and Morris J. Farris, of Danville.

They propose to sell only sufficient stock to build a pipe line from the Eastern fields to Louisville. Contract for this has been placed. R. W. Moon, of Louisville, is Fiscal Agent.

Breeding.

Crop making is the order of the day here now.

Miss Elsie Frodge is on the sick list at this writing.

Mr. Less McComas the local Dodge car agent at Burkesville, Ky., passed thru here last Wednesday with two new cars.

Mr. Edgar Cole a prominent young man of Burkesville, Ky., passed thru here last Saturday en route to Glensfork where he visited his many friends and relatives.

IS THIS YOUR OPPORTUNITY?

$1000.00 is offered to anyone that can prove that a higher grade speculative security is sold than the stock of the Pennagrade Oil & Gas Company.

We can prove that it is properly managed and that it will have a very substantial earning from the sale of GAS to the Louisville Gas & Electric Company.

I want a Local Man to represent me in your territory to sell Pennagrade Oil & Gas Company stock.

Applications from those furnishing the highest references will be considered.

Louisville, Ky.

THE STORY AND PLAYERS

Mickey, (Mabel Normandy) has been brought up by a miner, Joe Meadows, (George Nichols.) She is a tomboy and is the trial as well as the love of the old man's life. The only mother that Mickey has ever known is Minnie, an old Indian, who dutifully cares for her and worships the very ground she walks on. One day Joe decides that Mickey must go to her aunt's in the city to receive a proper education. Before she leaves she meets Herbert Thornhill, (Wheeler Oakman,) a mining engineer, who is doing some surveying in the neighborhood. In the city Mickey is introduced into the home of her socially ambitious aunt, Mrs. Drake, (Laura La Varnie.) Mrs. Drake hasn't enough money to pay the electric light bills, but she has the will to attempt to marry her daughter, Elsie, (Minta Durfee,) to Thornhill. Thornhill doesn't quite know his mind. Mickey is at first welcomed because it is believed that she is the possessor of a gold mine. But on discovering that her mine is worthless her aunt relegates her to the kitchen. Thornhill finally proposes to Elsie and places the ring on her finger. Then he sees Mickey again. She has arrayed herself in some of Elsie's finery. Straightway Thornhill regrets the proposal and the acceptance. His lawyer and friend, Tom Rawlins, (Tom Kennedy,) manages matters perfectly by informing him that fortune has been swept away. Then Elsie breaks the engagement. At this time it is discovered that a rich vein has been struck in Mickey's mine and that she is rich. So Straightway Reggie Drake, (Lewis Cody,) starts suit for her hand. But Mickey much prefers Thornhill. Reggie informs Thornhill that if he can get hold of five thousand dollars and place it on his, (Reggie's) horse, he will win back his fortune. (Thornhill gets the money and the bet is made. Thornhill tells his jockey to pull his horse and lose the race. Mickey overhears and takes the jockey's place. She is winning the race when the horse stumbles and throws her. She is severely hurt, but recovers shortly afterwards. Reggie presses his suit with more vigor than ever. Out riding with her one day he traps her in an old country house and starts to attack her. Thornhill, who has followed, comes to her rescue, but it is only after a long and furious fight that he succeeds in so doing. And after that they are married, and to make matter ideal, Rawlins informs Thornhill that his fortune was never really lost after all.

May the 9th and 10th.

Maj. Charles A. McKeand, of Indianapolis, and Mr. Edward Hill, of Campbellsville, were here Sunday night in the interest of the Centenary move. Maj. McKeand delivered a very interesting address at the Methodist church, reciting the progress of the work. The Southern Methodist Church is to raise $35,000,000, and he stated that it would not only be raised, but when the drive was over the amount would be far in advance of that sum. One man in Alabama has already subscribed $5,000,000. At the conclusion of Maj. McKeand's address Mr. Hill made a few very gratifying statements.

Said State Convention is for the purpose of adopting a platform embodying the principles upon which the Republican party and its nominees will ask the support of the elec-

WRECKAGE CAN'T BE CLEARED UP IN JUST FEW MONTHS

IT IS A BIG JOB AND THE CIVILIAN'S DUTY IS TO HELP FINISH IT.

WE MUST FINANCE PEACE.

Giving Nothing and Drawing Fine Interest on Best Investment in World.

After the war, peace. The old west front is gone. Hindenburg and his armies are away back across the Rhine. Germany is beaten. The biggest part of the task is done.

It took money, unheard of sums of money, to make war. It will take money, great sums of money, to make peace.

A world cannot fight desperately for four years, with its battleground in the very heart of the old and most densely populated parts of Europe and expect to clean up the wreckage in a few months. We all know that it took the peace conference weeks to even survey the situation, to look it over and get something of an idea of what it would require to start the world going again.

The after-the-war expenses of all nations are great. The United States can be no exception to this. For the beaten nations badly weakened, disorganized, ripped to shreds by internal disorders, these expenses will be crushing. Add to the necessity and the expense of a re-organization, the indemnities required, in one form or another, and generations will still be paying the bill.

Even the victors, under no indemnity necessities, are feeling the strain. We will need to help with our money and goods as we have helped with our money, goods, and men for the past year. These expenses must be met in part from a bond issue, the Victory Bond issue. It cannot be met by the ordinary or even extraordinary means of taxation.

It is here that the Liberty Bond buyer can help. This expense must be borne in great part from the funds of the people. It was necessary to call upon the people to finance the war and it is just as necessary to finance the peace.

The buyer of the Victory Liberty Notes (short-term bonds) will be helping to finance peace just as the bonds that he bought months ago helped to finance the war. At the same time he is making an investment that is second to none in financial history. He is giving nothing. It is not often that a man has such a chance. He can help in a time when every dollar is a help; he can demonstrate his Americanism just as sincerely as he did during the war, and at the same time he is making one of the best investments.

GERMAN SUBMARINE COMING

A group of big German submarines, some of which have the doubtful honor of having attacked American shipping, are on their way to America under American officers and crews. Some of them will be assigned to St. Louis to assist in the Victory Loan drive. The U-boat assigned to St. Louis is reported from the others at the Bermudas and is now near New Orleans. The trip from New Orleans to St. Louis will take several days.

HEROES BY HUNDREDS.

Back from the firing line, the trenches, the hospitals, the skirmish line and the field camps is coming an endless stream of khaki-clad Yanks, flushed with victory, bright-eyed with anticipation.

Every day sees another shipload, debark over east. Every day they are being rushed to the concentration camps for their discharge. Every day the trains are hurrying them homeward.

Not all of them got into the thick of it. Not all of them are wearing decorations. Not all of them are bearing wound stripes, thank God.

But in every section of the land are heroes by hundreds. And it is up to us stay-at-homes to measure up to them.

They did their part. Let's do ours. America's part in the world war is fast becoming an old story. But we can make it such a story that the world will never forget.

Up to this minute America has never fallen down on anything she undertook. She has always made good. Finished all she started. Poured into the maelstrom of war everything that was asked, men, money, munitions, supplies; faltered nowhere nor at nothing.

A truly fine record. Let's make it good right down to the last minute. Let's finish right, fellows. Let's make the Victory Liberty loan the final triumphant wonder of it all.

Do it? Of course we can. Subscribe your limit.

We Americans Forget too Easily

Half a dozen years ago a man in uniform, soldier or sailor, was a curiosity in the average American town. Now we see so many that the uniform has almost lost its significance. It no longer gives us thrill.

Then, too, the war is over. And no people forget so quickly as the Americans.

But every one of those men you meet in uniform, soldier or sailor, but recently was offering his life for your liberties, your security, your welfare. He wasn't holding back, questioning, doubting, hesitating about what he was going to do when zero hour came for him. Nor whether you were worth it.

He was training to the minute for that final command. He was steeling himself to give his country and his company the best that was in him. He was determined to do his duty at whatever cost. To give his life for you if need be. Not every man you meet in khaki had the opportunity. But it wasn't his fault. He did his best. He was willing.

And some of them you cannot help knowing were in the thick of it all. They bear the marks. Will carry them to their graves. The honorable scars.

Every one of them are back from the war even though some of them only got part way. For every one of them had his heart in it; wanted to get into it in truth. And swore roundly at the Hun when the armistice was signed.

But how far did you get, Mr. Stay-at-home? How deeply into the financial trenches? How many of the purse-emptying entanglements of extravagant habits did you cut? How many scars of sacrifice do you bear?

Have you come back from the war or didn't you get started?

Uncle Sam is giving you one more chance to do your part; to prove your loyalty as the men in khaki proved theirs; to show your gratitude for victory, your appreciation of peace.

He's asking you to help put the Victory Loan royally over the top.

It's a little late to become a regular.

But you can be a volunteer.

WHAT THE GOBS DID —YOU CAN DO!

During the war and even directly after the signing of the armistice, few Americans knew about or had even heard of the great U. S. Naval Aviation Supply Base at Pauillac, France. This station, from the time it was built early in 1918, has carried on its work with the utmost secrecy, not only because the work was of such an important character that special effort was made to keep all knowledge of activities from the enemy, but because it was the navy's job; and one seldom hears about the achievements of the navy.

For instance, the news of the amount of money the men at Pauillac station subscribed to the Fourth Liberty Loan until now has been kept a modest secret. Of course, the subscribers undoubtedly realized at the time they had established a record which no other army or navy outfit equaled. But they would not talk.

On September 23, 1918, when the Fourth Liberty Loan campaign opened there were 3,168 men at Pauillac. Captain F. T. Evans, U. S. N., the commanding officer, set the quota of the station at $350,000, not believing for one moment this amount would be subscribed by his men. However, they not only reached their quota, but altogether they bought $513,000 of bonds, which averages about $162 per man.

Comparatively speaking, the Pauillac station had about as well an organized Liberty Loan campaign as any town in the United States. The campaign was organized and put through entirely by the men. On the opening day of the Liberty Loan original posters designed by the artists among the aviators, sailors, mechanics, etc., appeared in every available bill-posting spot. The Pauillac Pilot, the daily newspaper of the station, came out with a Liberty Loan edition, just as many of the metropolitan newspapers did. Aeroplanes circles over the station dropping Liberty Loan literature. One of the "Orders" dropped read: From: Your Uncle Sam.

To: You, Sailor.
Via: Airplane.
Subject: Fourth Liberty Loan.
Reference: Paymaster.

(1) You are hereby ordered to buy a one-hundred-dollar or fifty-dollar Liberty Bond and otherwise do your damndest to boost the Liberty Loan drive on Pauillac station.

(2) Proceed to Bldg. No. 1 and there dig down and come across. The yeoman will not refuse you.

(3) Duty completed, proceed to your barracks, thinking of apres la guerre, the girl, etc., and say to yourself: "A wise man am I."
(Signed.) UNCLE SAM.

Buy Directly.

It cost the United States about three million dollars to build one of the naval aviation supply stations in the world, and it is the pride of the men of this station that with their Liberty Bonds they helped pay one-sixth of the cost.

MAKE THE FAMILY dollars safe for the children through the purchase of Victory Loan Notes just as the soldier made the note safe for democracy through sacrifice.

IT IS YOUR WAR. It is your victory. Lend your share to pay the bill.

HOW OUR DOLLARS TIPPED THE SCALE OF ARMED POWER

AMERICAN LIBERTY BONDS DID THE TRICK AND THEIR DUTY IS NOT ENDED.

MUCH YET TO BE DONE

Obligation of Decent Americans is to Furnish More Dollars to Finish the Job.

When the American dollars, mobilized by means of the Liberty Bonds, got into action they played a big part in winning the war.

On the firing line appeared 2,000,000 Yanks in about as short a time as ever an army was put together.

These same bonds and dollars put a great American merchant marine on the waters, and that merchant fleet is available now that peace has come. These same bonds helped the allied nations to draw on our funds to the tune of $7,000,000,000 to carry on the fight.

In brief, these bonds and dollars tipped the balance of military power so effectively that the one thing for the Germans to do was surrender. And the job of these bonds and dollars is by no means completed, the task is unfinished. The duty of the dollar has not yet been completed by a long way. Furthermore, the obligations of the decent American citizen to furnish that dollar has not been removed. It is still his duty, just as it was last fall and last spring.

In Europe we must do our part of the work toward restoring law, order and a real peace. Somehow or another we must help Russia back to sanity or be forever menaced by a giant madman, a country of 170,000,000 souls. The starving in Belgium and north France must be fed, industry must be restored, help given. It may be possible that the broken and beaten German must be given some sort of assistance. In all these things appear some of the reasons for the Victory Liberty Loan.

But most important it is that we look for our own commercial interests in the future. We must see that at home and abroad, our own interests are protected. That is the thing that most nearly concerns all of us whether we be laborer or capitalist, farmer or professional man. Because of these things the man who looks at the Fifth Loan in a spirit of resistance is foolish. The bonds have done much, but there is still work for them to do. For our part it is a question of standing by our duty in order that the country may stand by its duty. Not until normal conditions have been restored will it be possible for us to feel that "bond issues are foolishness."

LUTHERANS IN A RALLY

Entire Church is Urged to Give Full Support to the Victory Loan.

Members of the National Lutheran Council and every pastor of the Lutheran church in the United States is urged to respond to the government's call in the Victory Liberty Loan in a special message that has just been sent out to the church by H. G. Stubb, president of the national council.

"The Victory Loan is at hand," he states in the message. "Our government has urged the people of the country to do their best in order to reach the goal, as in all former Liberty Loan drives. According to communications from government officials, we know that our Lutheran church has done its share in raising every former Liberty Loan, and our church will not hold back when the call for the Victory Loan comes to its members."

"As president of the National Lutheran Council, consisting of a large majority of the Lutheran bodies, I urge all those who belong to the council to do what they can. Every pastor and every member of every synod and congregation should take part. The government would not have issued this call if it were not necessary. But the great reconstruction work and the assistance needed by the people of Europe require that we do as much as we possibly can."

SOME VICTORY 'DON'TS'

Don't let a wounded soldier hear you say that you "sacrificed" by selling a Liberty Bond below par. He knows what sacrifice is. He also knows that Uncle Sam will pay par on every promise when that promise matures.

Don't let a wounded soldier hear you say that you "sacrificed" by selling a Liberty Bond below par. He knows what sacrifice is. He also knows that Uncle Sam will pay par on every promise when that promise matures.

S. M. SANDERS & CO.

CAMPBELLSVILLE, KENTUCKY.

Shelby, N. C.

April 19, 1919.

Editor News:

As has been intimated by previous correspondence, I have been away from home, teaching school; and the term has just closed. This State has made a forward movement in the realm of education; also in the disposition of dogs and road-building. The townships of Cleveland county, N. C. are numbered and not named, and I have a being in No. 8. We had abominable highways until five years ago, when we voted $50,000 worth of bonds. Now 80 miles graded roads radiate through No. 8, about 55 of them being sand-clay and topsoil thoroughfares. Your Uncle has been a voice crying in the wilderness for good roads, good schools with better pay for teachers; and to see that every infernal, sheep-killing, egg-sucking, hydrophobia dispensing cur, hound and fice be eliminated or taxed.

He has been hated, cussed at long range, and ostracized by all trimming, time-serving politicians, especially the grafters, whose name is legion. While his face bears the deep scars of conflict; his face is not the only one looking like a war-map. "Fido" is subject to a state-wide tax; the schools have been lengthed to six months; and the salary augmented 25 per cent 5. This year and last, I taught where roads were laid off to go up one hill and down another out of one mud hole into another; and generally about 14 feet right-of-way. Some overseer, who never saw a good road, "warned" every man between ages of 18 and 45, who brought taxes, grubbing hoes and "maddicks". Pine tops were chopped and thrown into was chewed, salacious gossip was rolled as a sweet morsel under the tongue; and roads, grew steadily worse.

This winter, a few enterprising citizens, taking townships No. 6, 7, and 8 as object lessons, desired my help in securing an election on good road bonds. Having no political axe to grind, I tendered my services. I used the local press that was not owned body and soul by the nefarious political ring, and delivered five speeches favorable to the enterprise. One man, who owned broad acres, rode a buzz wagon, and went to Shelby to be wound up, politically, and who was called "Robbi" in the church; was "agin" good roads; especially a bond issue. His wealth was mostly by inheritance; but he had bulging conscientious scruples "agin" voting bonds for the unborn to pay. In going to Shelby to be wound up, he passed through townships No. 6, 7, and 8; all who had perpetrated the atrocity of voting bonds for those still are in the womb of Time. He took care not to meet me and others, to discuss the question; but hunted the untutored woolly-neck and related his tale of woe. At close of my school, I printed some transparencies with such mottos as "Vote good roads and develop Noll; "Vote for bonds and see Casar grow;" "Vote for good schools, mountain resorts, a market at your door for dairy and poultry products"; and "If you love Casar girls vote for bonds." We also had all blackboard space covered with appealing sentiments in variegated colors; and the girls marched in with military precision bearing several banners and trans parencises. About 300 were present, and two good lawyers from Shelby and the superintendent of Shelby graded school sounded the loud timbrel over Egypt's dark waters. I promised the opposition 11 votes; they delivered but 8. Road bonds received only 158. That is a fairly healthy majority—150. I am always receiving gratuitous advice about hurting meself and hurting the party; but assert Irish blood, cry aloud and spare not. Let me hope that my native county will go and do likewise. You have a genial climate, fertile soil, a sturdy and patriotic citizenship; and let one who loves you entreat the people not to neglect their temporal salvation. I am not wedded to method; but bonds are the solution for this region. Roads must be located by survey, graded, and then topsoiled, sand clawed for macadamized. I love Kentucky, especially Adair county; and when I wander back again, let me see good thoroughfares.

Melvin White.

VOICES CONTEMPT FOR Foe FIGHTERS

REPORTS OF FRATERNIZING BY AMERICAN AND Foe TROOPS DENIED BY RED TRIANGLE WORKER.

Chicago.—Reports of fraternizing of allied and foe troops following the signing of the armistice on the western front are denied in a letter from H. B. Stecher, Racine, Wis., received at the offices of the national war work council, Y. M. C. A., here.

Stecher was a Y. M. C. A. worker attached to the Ninety-first division. He served for more than six months on three fighting fronts—at St. Mihiel, in Flanders and the Argonne. Twice he was cited for bravery and awarded the D. S. C.

Before going to France to serve as a "Y" worker Stecher was associated with the Hamilton Beach Manufacturing company at Racine. Formerly he was a member of the California National Guard when he was living in Los Angeles, Cal. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Stecher, live in Chicago.

Referring to reports of fraternizing of the troops Stecher says: "Certainly there was no attempt or desire on the part of the men of our division to fraternize with our much-despised opponents, and had there been, the officers would not have permitted it. As a matter of fact the guns were going right up to the time the armistice went into effect. You see, our boys have had a mighty good chance to size up the caliber of the other side, and had the Germans shown any indications of good sportsmanship in the fighting no doubt we would feel some little respect for them. Having been a dough-boy myself in the past, and now having gone through all the fighting with my division, I believe my viewpoint is the same as that of the majority of our division, and, personally, I have the utmost contempt for the German soldier, his methods and his ideals."

MAJOR GENERAL PRAISES SERVICE OFFERED BY "Y"

Spread upon the records of the Third division, A. E. F., and just brought to the attention of the national war work council of the Y. M. C. A., is a general order issued by command of Major General Dickman, which "Y" officials have hailed as an emphatic answer to charges that Red Triangle workers had avoided the danger zones in France and had wrung exorbitant prices from the soldiers for the comforts which the association had sent overseas. General Dickman directed that a copy of the order be sent to every one of the thirty-four men and six women who went with the division through the fighting of Chateau-Thierry and along the Marne, to St. Mihiel, and later into action north of Verdun and along the Meuse.

The Y. M. C. A. has made public General Dickman's order along with a communication from Col. J. C. Rhea of another division which was in the St. Mihiel fighting. Colonel Rhea gave figures showing the large amount of supplies which were distributed in his division by "Y" secretaries without charge.

GREAT EDUCATIONAL PROGRAM PLANNED

Paris.—General Pershing has signed an order establishing an American Army university in France to accommodate 15,000 to 20,000 soldier students. The school will be opened at Beaune. At the same time the main office of the Y. M. C. A. army educational commission will be moved from Paris to Beaune.

Courses in engineering, liberal and fine arts, science, music and the like will be offered. It is expected that one of the four agricultural exhibits which have been prepared by the department of agriculture in co-operation with the Y. M. C. A. will be a permanent feature at Beaune.

The Y. M. C. A. war work council announced that the cost of the educational program in the A. E. F. had now reached $700,000 a month. Books and supplies costing $1,300,000 have been sent overseas. The army pays for the books and distributes them to the soldier students.

To Improve Idle Time.

Wherever there are as many as 500 reasonably stationary soldiers, sailors and marines at the base camps or the ports of shipment or with the army of occupation, there will be educational courses supervised by the Y. M. C. A. For those who are to be moved in a few weeks there will be short courses, but there will be something to interest every one.

"Y" Operates Hotels.

London.—Half a dozen London hotels, including the Palace, Cosmo and Grafton, have been taken over by the American Y. M. C. A. and are now in full operation. This addition to the war plant of the "Y" is required by the even more comprehensive period of occupation program which has been set up in the United Kingdom by the Y. M. C. A.

Want American Tables.

An American pool table is a grateful oasis to the American soldiers impatiently awaiting orders to leave for home, for somehow or other they do not take kindly to the model of pool or billiard table which is extant in Merrie England. Hence there never is any rest to the billiard tables in the Y. M. C. A. hut in the British Isles.

HUGE ORGAN WILL FURNISH MUSIC FOR METHODIST CENTENARY CELEBRATION

SHIMMERING, pulsating strings; liquid, sparkling flutes; broad, dignified diapasons; militant, exultant trumpets and reeds from the plaintive vox humana; the contemplative orchestral oboe; the ringing French horn and the quaint clarinet to the massive, compelling sonority of the great 32-foot bombard and its accompanying battery of brilliant tubas, comprise the four divisions of the huge organ which is being installed in the Coliseum at the exposition grounds for the Methodist Centenary celebration to be held in Columbus, June 20 to July 13.

The organ is being built under the direct supervision of W. J. Kraft, director of music at Columbia university, by Moller of Hagerstown, Md. It will cost about $50,000.

"The instrument compares favorably with the largest organs now in use," said Professor Kraft. "It is much larger than the municipal organ at Portland, Me. The organ has 98 stops, having as subdivision great, swell, choir, solo and echo. It will have the divisions of woodwind, brass, strings, harp and chimes. It is my purpose to invite some of the leading organists of the world to come to the celebration and give recitals."

Mr. Moller, builder of the organ, said: "I know of no organ in the country which has the power or so many modern appliances as that being built for the Centenary celebration. It will probably hold the record for being the largest organ used for any religious gathering."

There are three separate blowing plants, requiring 25 horse-power, with centrifugal electric blowers and generators. The console is movable, being connected with the organ by a flexible cable, located immediately in front of the stage at the west end of the auditorium. The organ covers a floor space of 900 square feet and weighs approximately eight tons. The blowers furnish 6,300 cubic feet of air per minute. Twenty-one miles of wire have been installed. The pipes range from three-quarters of an inch in length to 32 feet.

In planning the accompaniment for congregational singing in an auditorium seating 10,000 people, the committee in charge of the preparatory work saw that an orchestra would be ineffective, and that nothing would be so peculiarly in keeping with the religious motive underlying the whole movement as the resonance power, beauty and spiritual uplift which would result from the use of an organ. This organ will furnish accompaniment of great mixed choruses ranging from 500 to 1,500 voices, which will have part in the Centenary Celebration. The work of installing its mechanism already is started and the terms of the contract call for completion by May 1.

Professor Kraft has invited some of the leading organists of the United States to display their skill on this organ during the progress of the Centenary.

NEGROES WILL TAKE PROMINENT PART IN METHODIST CENTENARY CELEBRATION

THE Methodist Centenary celebration, which will be held in Columbus, O., June 20 to July 13, will for all time establish recognition for the negro on the international church map by transferring him from his traditional racial role of recipient to that of a potent contributor to the world's religious uplift.

The very fact that all Methodism is celebrating the one hundredth anniversary of the birth of missions is a tribute to the zeal and the consecration of its negro membership exemplified in the person of John Steward, a negro member of the Methodist Episcopal Church, who started at Upper Sandusky, O., the first home siding over the A. M. E. church of Tennessee; Dr. E. W. S. Hammond, editor of church literature, Rushville, Ind.; Dr. J. W. Robinson; Dr. G. R. Bryant and Dr. E. M. Carroll of Chicago; Dr. R. E. Jones, editor of the Southwestern Christian Advocate; Dr. W. M. Brooks of New York; number of college presidents and district superintendents as well as a host of well educated, intelligent men and women, lay representatives of the varied fields of African Methodist church activities.

Columbus boasts of eight African Methodist churches, a new Y. M. C. A. building, valued at $100,000; two community social center houses, one missionary work ever done in our country," said Dr. E. L. Gilliam, pastor of the St. Paul's A. M. E. church of Columbus and chairman of the African Centenary bureau, in a recent interview.

Among negroes of prominence who will be in Columbus to take part in the Centenary proceedings are Bishop Alexander Camphor of Monrovia, Africa; Bishop Issah Scott of Nashville, Tenn.; Dr. W. A. C. Hughes, field secretary of the Board of Home Missions; Drs. F. M. Delaney of the Cincinnati-Mayaville district and A. M. Jones, field secretaries of the Board of Sunday Schools; Dr. W. B. Sherrill, field secretary of the Board of Foreign Missions; Dr. J. H. G. Coggin, field secretary of the Board of Temperance; Dr. I. G. Penn, corresponding secretary of the Freedman's Aid Society; Bishop O. A. Callahan, pres-on the tax duplicate for $25,000, the other for $20,000; a Y. W. C. A. war community center, a theater and a movie house and two good hotels.

A thoroughly organized African Centenary committee is actively engaged in perfecting plans for the participation of nearly 2,000 negroes in various forms of the celebration activities. This committee includes district superintendents and the pastors and lay members of the Columbus churches, who have charge of the enlistment of Africans for pageant and musical service and securing of accommodations for the Centenary visitors. Already a chorus of 500 colored singers, two colored bands, one of men, the other of women, and college quartettes are pledged and in training. In addition 300 negroes will take part in the pageants and assist in the demonstration exhibits.
